REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING.

We direct the attention of our readers to the call for a Republican Mass Meeting in the Diamond Square, Allegheny, this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

We trust the meeting will be large and harmonious, as we have no doubt it will be. It is called by a spontaneous movement of the people. We have had several papers handed in to us urging the call for this meeting, signed by hundreds of our most estimable citizens. It is not too early for the Republicans to confer together, to look each other in the eye, and to draw that inspiration which will lead on to victory in October next. Several distinguished speakers are announced.

DEATH OF JOSEPH COLTART.

The death of this estimable gentleman is announced to-day. He was one of our oldest citizens, having emigrated to this city from Scotland more than forty years ago, when this city was but a village compared with its present size. He engaged in business here at an early day, and during a long and active life maintained a high character for enterprise, probity, sound judgment and fair dealing. Few men have ever lived in the city who can point to a fairer record, and we hear of his death with profound and sincere regret.

A SOUTHERN gentleman, writing to Wilke's Spirit of the Times, says:

"You know, of course, that the Southern people, by a very large majority, are opposed to union with the North. Do they conceal it? You know they surrendered to force, not to argument. Do you expect them to be convinced? We submit, and do as we are bid. When you, through Congress or the President, say, "Elect representatives," but prescribe no conditions, we elect them to suit ourselves. If you want them to suit you, why don't you appoint them? Why go through the farce of an election? We are in your hands."

This is frank and manly, because it sets forth the facts without passion and without concealment.

IN HUNTINGDON county, a few days ago, a Republican County Convention was held to determine whether what is known as "the Crawford County system" of selecting candidates should be adopted or not. The system was rejected, 7 to 48. This system has been tried in Pittsburgh, with what success was demonstrated at the last selection of a republican candidate for Mayor.

OF the new Collector of Customs at New York, the Tribune says:

"Mr. Smythe was never much of a politician, belongs to no 'wing,' no clique, and had very little political support. For years a prosperous and at length an eminent merchant, and of late a leading and successful banker, his backing was almost wholly from business men, and his selection reflects credit on the President who made it, the more that his leading competitors were conspicuously strong and fit men."

THE Memphis Avalanche, which yielded to GRANT'S persuasive policy while in command of that city, has been revived, and contains a call for a grand Southern Convention, to be held on the 4th of July, "for the purpose of coming to a definite understanding as to the political status which the States and people of the South are to occupy in the future."

JUDGE BUSTED, of the United States District Court at Mobile, has rendered an important decision. A young man, a minor, while a passenger on board one of the Mobile and New Orleans steamers, engaged in cards and lost, as charged, to a professional gambler, a considerable sum of money, really the property of his mother. It is also stated that suit had been instituted for the recovery of the money, not against the gambler, but the Captain of the boat. The case has been heard and decided in favor of the plaintiff.

A MOST remarkable flow of natural burning gas was recently discovered while boring for oil at Getzville, near Buffalo. A company has been formed, with ample capital, who are about to develop and utilize this gas by introducing it into the city in mains. A contract has already been made with the city gas light company, by which they are to receive forty thousand cubic feet of gas per day, at $1 per thousand. The company have recently procured from Professor Hadly accurate tests of the gas produced, showing its superior quality.

FENIANISM FLAGGING.—A firm in Albany, New York, has received an order to manufacture fifty thousand Fenian flags.

THE LATEST NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

Adjustment of Prize Lists—Infected Money Destroyed—Order Releasing Clement C. Clay—New York Collectorship.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Tribune's special says: The prize lists for the crews of the following Union vessels are now in process of adjustment at the Fourth Auditor's office of the Treasury Department, and will soon be ready for distribution: Owasco, Hallerin, Alabama, St. Lawrence, Two Brothers, Parsuit, Restless, Flag, Mercedita and Penobscot.

Treasurer Spinner, yesterday, received from a Federal Surgeon at Bowling Green, Kentucky, the sum of one hundred and ninety-nine dollars, in United States currency, the property of small pox patients in the Military Hospital at that place, and which he, the surgeon, deemed injudicious to allow to go into circulation. The infected money which was securely sealed was burned by General Spinner, who on his own responsibility forwarded the same amount in new greenbacks to the Bowling Green Hospital.

A Washington special says: The following order has just been issued from the War Department:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, April 17, 1866.

Ordered that Clement C. Clay, Jr., is hereby released from confinement, and is permitted to return or remain in the State of Alabama, and to visit such other places in the United states as his personal business may render necessary upon these conditions: That he takes the oath of allegiance to the United States, and gives his parole of honor to conduct himself as a loyal citizen, and to report himself in person at any time and place to answer any charges that may be hereafter preferred against him by the United States.

By order of the President.

E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The New York Collectorship continues to be the theme of varied though general complimentary remarks. A Senator stated that he thought that the appointment of Mr. Smythe would be readily confirmed, but that the Senate would probably postpone action upon it for some time. True men on all sides commend the President's course in thus breaking clear of all mere partisan pressure, and making an appointment in the sole interest of the commercial class.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The strike on the city railroads continues, with unabated inconvenience to travelers. In the forenoon of yesterday the old hands on the Third avenue went to work on the understanding that their demands would be complied with, but tied up again on hearing that such was not the company's intention. On the other lines railroad traffic was more or less irregular, and ceased altogether at eight o'clock P. M. A riot took place last evening in the neighborhood of Thirteenth street and Second Avenue. Arrests were made and the rioters separated without doing much injury. A meeting of the drivers took place in Continental Hall, at which enthusiastic speeches were made and subscriptions raised for the assistance of the strikers.

Judge Ingraham has decided relative to the claims of Kornin Ketchum & Co. on the New York and New Haven Railroad Company, as to the latter's responsibility for the fraudulent issue of stock by Robert Schuyler. The decision is, judgment for the defendants in the sum of $100,076.65, with interest on the sum of $54,834.66 from April 10th, 1866, and costs.

Col. O'Mahoney visited the Germania Assembly Rooms, where the fair of the Fenian Sisterhood is being held, last night, and delivered an address on the progress of the work.

The police report that several deaths from ship fever have recently occurred in a wretched tenement called the Wrens' Nest, in Williamsburg, Long Island. Other cases are reported on Grand street.

The shipments of cotton from this port exclusively during the week ending last evening were to the unusually heavy amount of 21,100 bales, of the currency valre of $36,975.18.

The office of H. G. Benedict, Lexington avenue, was entered last night by burglars, and his safe blown open with such a tremendous report thwt it startled the police, who gave chase and arrested two of the confederate thieves.

Masons North and South.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Tribune says. The Supreme Council of Free Masons of the Southern Jurisdiction met again yesterday at the Templar's Asylum. Among the visiting Inspector Generals were Brothers Head, of New Hampshire, and Page, of Massachusetts. A long report, by Brother Rockwell, of Georgia was read, on the conflicting claims of the two bodies at the North, each claiming to be the Supreme Council of the Jurisdiction. It was shown that under the Constitution of 1796 neither body numbered among its original number a majority of those previously recognized by the northern jurisdiction as members of its Supreme Council, and that consequent ly neither one is legitimate. A reunion of the legitimate thirty-thirds in each Council is recommended as the only possible way to heal the difficulty. Last evening a magnificent banquet was given at the Metropolitan Hotel, by Martin Collins, of St. Louis, to all of the Thirty-third in the city. Before its close there was a display of Masonic friendship by brethren from almost every State in the Union, some of which were, not very long ago, opposed to each other in arms.

From Havana—Reported Engagement of Spanish Frigates.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The steamer Columbia, from Havana on the 14th, has arrived.

The Diario has a report that on the 28th of February the Spanish frigates Blanca and Berenguela bombarded the port of Conception, and landed a force which captured the town. One vessel is said to have been sunk by them.

Almasta and Consuelo reached Montevideo the health of Havana is good. Small pox is reported raging at Ponce, Porta Rico.

The shock of an earthquake was felt at Ponce, March 26.

Additional National Banking Capital.

BELFAST, ME., April 18.—To-day's Progressive Age says, on the authority of W. G. Richbern, State Treasurer, that the Senate bill authorizing ten millions of dollars additional National Banking capital for New England, reserved one and a half millions for the nine remaining State Banks of Maine.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S POLICY.

Speech to Soldiers and Sailors.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In reply to the crowd of soldiers and sailors assembled at the White House this evening to pay their respects to the President, Mr Johnson said: I confess that in the peculiar posture of public affairs, your presence and address give encouragement and confidence to me in my efforts to discharge the duties incumbent upon the republic, and in what I have to say, I shall address you in the character of citizens, sailors and soldiers. [Applause.]

We are to-day involved in one of the most critical and tryiig struggles that have occurred since this government came into existence. The nation has another test still to undergo, and that is to give evidence to the nations of the earth and to its own citizens, that it has power to resist internal foes, that it has strength enough to put down treachery at home and treason within its own borders. (Cheers.) We have commenced that ordeal, and I trust in God we will pass through it successfully. (Cheers.)

I feel complimented by the allusion of your representative to the fact that I stood in the senate in 1860 and 1861, when the nation was entering on this third ordeal, and raised my voice and hand against treason, treachery and traitors at home. (Cheers, and cries of "good.") I stand here to-day, holding to and maintaining the same principles which I then enunciated. (Cheers.) I stand here to-day, opposing traitors and treason, whether they be in the high places or the low places. I stand here to-day as I then stood, using all my power, mental and physical, to preserve this nation in passing through this third phase of its existence, those who, organized forces and combined powers that recently stood in arms against us are disbanded and driven from the field, but it does not follow there are still no enemies against our present form of government and your free institutions. (Applause.)

I then stood in the Senate of the United States denying the doctrine of separation and secession. I denied then, as I do now, that any State has the right of its own will, of its own motion to withdraw itself from the other States, and thereby to destroy the Union and break up the Government; and I think I have given some evidence that I have been sincere and in earnest, and now I want to know why it is that the whole train of slanderers and conumnitators and traducers have been barking and snapping at my heels? (Laughter.) Why is it that they array themselves against me?

Is it because I stand on the side of the people and when I say the people, I include the soldiers and sailors, [Cheers] who formerly paid they are arrayed in traducing, vilifying and calumnating me! Where were they during the rebellion! [A voice—at home in bed.] (Laughter.) Let me tell you that when the rebellion was at and when it was believed that it would be to the interest of the nation and would assist in pulling down the rebellion, did I not leave my place in the senate, a place of emolument, ease and distinction, and take my position where the enemy could be reached and where men's lives were in danger? (Cheers and cries of "that's true.")

While I was thus exposed personally and publicly, and in every way, some of my present traducers and calumniators were far removed from the foe, and were enjoying ease and comfort in their own homes, which I care not for them. I care not that slander, the foul whelp of sin, has been turned loose against me. I care not to all that, and let me tell you again to-day, that the nation is well advanced in life, I feel that I shall live long enough to live down the whole pack of traducers and slanderers. (Applause.) They have turned the whole pack loose to howl at me in your estimation. (Voices—"They can't do it.") Tray, Blanche and sweetheart, little dogs and all come along snapping and snarling at my heels, but I heed them not. (Cheers.)

The American people, citizens, soldiers and sailors know that from my advent into public life to the present moment, I have always stood unyieldingly and unwaveringly the advocate and defender of their rights and interests. (Cheers.) We are now in the nation's third ordeal. We are not yet through. We said that States could not go out of the Union. We denied the doctrine of secession, and we have demonstrated we were right. We demonstrated it by the strong arm. Yes, the soldiers and the sailors—God bless them—have demonstrated, by their patriotic hearts and strong arms, that States have not the power to leave the Union (Applause.)

What followed? The Confederate armies were overpowered and disbanded, and there was a willingness on the part of the people of those States to come back, be obedient to the laws and acknowledge the supremacy of the Constitution of our fathers. For that we have passed through this third ordeal! It was to establish the principle that no State had the power to break up the Government. It was to put down the rebellion. The rebellion was put down, and for what was it to destroy the States? (Voices—"Never.")

For what have all these lives been sacrificed and all this treasure expended! Was it for the purpose of destroying the States? No; it was for the purpose of preserving the Union of the States. That is what the struggle is contending for, and to establish the fact that the nation can lift itself above and beyond intestine foes, and treason and traitors at home.

When Washington and his compatriots put down, did that put Massachusetts out of the Union, and destroy the State? When the rebellion in Pennsylvania was put down, did that destroy the State and put it out of the Union? So when the recent great rebellion was put down and the constitutions and laws of the country restored in the States engaged in it, they still remain a part of that glorious and bright galaxy of States. [Loud cheers.] In passing through this ordeal what has been done in Tennessee under the direction of my lamented predecessor? We commenced the work of restoration We succeeded, before I came here, in restoring the relations which had existed between Tennessee and the rest of the Union with one exception, and that was the relation of representation. I came to Washington, and under extraordinary circumstances, succeeded to the presidential chair. What then? The Congress of the United States had adjourned without prescribing any plan. I then proceeded as I had done in my own state, under the circumstances, to restore the other States. How did we begin! We found that the people had no courts, and we said to the Judges, District Attorneys and Marshals, You must go and hold your courts. The people need the tribunals of justice to be opened." Was there anything wrong in that! The courts were opened. What else! We looked out and saw that the people down there had no mails. They had been intercepted and cut off by the operations of the rebellion. We said to the Postmaster General, Let the people have facilities for mail communication, and let them again begin to understand what we all feel and think —that we are one people."

We looked out again and saw that there was a blockade, that the custom houses were all closed. We said, open the door of the custom house and remove the blockade, let trade and commerce and the pursuits of peace flow as they used to and it was done. We then traveled on step by step, opening custom houses, appointing collectors and establishing mail facilities and restoring all relations that had been interrupted by the rebellion.

Was there anything undertaken to be done here that was not authorized by the Constitution? that was not justified by the great necessities of the case? that was not in full accord consonant with the Constitution, with the genius and spirit of our Government? (Cheers.) What remained to be done? One other thing remained to be consummated, and that was the pagan world that we had passed successfully through the third ordeal of our National existence, and proved that our Government was perpetual in its great principle, and we restored which was established in our revolution, when our fathers were contending against the power of Great Britain. What was one of the powerful causes of their complaint? It was that they were denied representation. They complained of taxation without representatioh. (Cheers.) One of the great principles laid down by our fathers, and which fired their hearts, was that there should be no taxation without representation. How then does the matter stand? Who has been usurping power; who has been destroying the operation of the Constitution, and what now remains to be done to complete the restoration of these States to all their former relations under the Federal Government, and to finish the great ordeal through which we have been passing, is now to admit representation. (Cheers), and when we say admit representation, what do we mean? We mean representation in the constitutional and law abiding sense, and that was intended at the beginning of the Government.

All that is needed to finish the great work of restoration is for the two houses respectively to determine the question. Oh! but some one will say, a traitor might come in. The answer to that is that each house must be judge, and if a traitor presents himself cannot either house know that he is a traitor? (Applause.) And if he is a traitor, cannot they kick him out of the door and send him back, saying to the people who sent him, "you must send us a loyal man." (Cheers, and a voice, "that's logic.") Is there any difficulty about that? ("No, no," and cheers.) If a traitor presents himself to either house, cannot that house say to him, "no, you cannot be admitted." Is there any go back, go back. I deny your people the right of representation, but you must send a loyal representative." (Cheers.)

While I have been contending against traitors and treason and secession and the dissolution of the Union, I have been contending at the same time against consolidation of power here, and think consolidation of power here is equally dangerous with separation of the States. (Cheers.) The one would fetter us and might run into anarchy, while the other would concentrate and eventuate in a monarchy. Oh! but there is an idea abroad that one man can be a usurper, but that a hundred or two hundred men cannot. Mr. Jefferson, the Apostle of Liberty, tells us, and so does common sense, that tyranny by a majority is as much as can be exercised by many, more rigorously, more vigorously, and more tyrannically than by one.

When Athenes rose first elected in the Roman republic they stood at the door of the Roman Senate, which was then encroaching on the popular rights and putting the heel of power on the necks of the people; the people chose a tribune and placed him at the door of the Senate. So when that body ventured an oppressive act, he was clothed with power to say, veto—forbid. Your President now is the tribune of the people. I thank God I am, and intend to assert the power which the people have placed in me.

Your President stands here day after day, and discharges his duty like a horse on a tread wheel, and because he does differ in opinion in regard to public measures, he must be denounced as a usurper and a tyrant. • • I am with you, gentlemen, soldiers and sailors, Who has sacrificed or perilled more than the humble individual who addresses you! Has not my all been put, with my life, my property! Everything sacred and dear to man has been staked upon it, and can I now be suspected of faltering at the close of this third ordeal of the rebellion!

I thank you, gentlemen, for the compliment you have passed upon me.

A MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS.

Justice Asked for Union Soldiers and Sailors.

THE FLYING NAVAL SQUADRON.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The following memorial was presented in the House yesterday:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the United States:

Your memorialist humbly represents that, in common with the loyal people of the republic, he has been anxiously waiting for justice to be done the soldiers of the Union army, particularly those who have been disabled, and the parents, widows, and orphans of those who have been lost. Resolutions of thanks and proclamations of recognization may be sufficient for those whose garners are well filled, but it is a notorious fact that the great mass of the ranks of the army were not from those high in civil life, or those rejoicing in wealth and luxury, and the nation was saved by the agony, the privations, the tears, and the blood of those who apparently had the least interest in its preservation. Declarations that the debt we owe the soldiers is one the nation can never pay, seem so to paralize the Government that no successful attempt has yet been made to pay it, and the obligation is looked upon as of such magnitude that it is partially squared. It is a matter of regret that the departments of the Government are almost sealed against the applications of the living heroes and of this age, and too often when the applicant has left the empty sleeve ask the privilege of an honest livelihood they are turned away as the wandering mendicant or the insolent beggar. On the highways and street corners, those in the organized forces and combined powers that recently stood in arms against us are disbanded and driven from the field, but it does not follow there are still no enemies against our present form of government and your free institutions. (Applause.)

I then stood in the Senate of the United States denying the doctrine of separation and secession. I denied then, as I do now, that any State has the right of its own will, of its own motion to withdraw itself from the other States, and thereby to destroy the Union and break up the Government; and I think I have given some evidence that I have been sincere and in earnest, and now I want to know why it is that the whole train of slanderers and communicators and traducers have been barking and snapping at my heels? (Laughter.) Why is it that they array themselves against me?

Is it because I stand on the side of the people and when I say the people, I include the soldiers and sailors, [Cheers] who formerly paid they are arrayed in traducing, vilifying and calumnating me! I thank God I am, and intend to assert the power which the people have placed in me.

Your President stands here day after day, and discharges his duty like a horse on a tread wheel, and because he does differ in opinion in regard to public measures, he must be denounced as a usurper and a tyrant. • • I am with you, gentlemen, soldiers and sailors, Who has sacrificed or perilled more than the humble individual who addresses you! Has not my all been put, with my life, my property! Everything sacred and dear to man has been staked upon it, and can I now be suspected of faltering at the close of this third ordeal of the rebellion!

I thank you, gentlemen, for the compliment you have passed upon me.

The Deering Family Murder—True Bill Found—The Trial Postponed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—The grand jury this morning found a true bill of indictment against Antone Probst for the murder of the Deering family. The prisoner was brought into Court and arraigned at one o'clock this afternoon, after much legal delay. The prisoner having no counsel, the Court assigned him Messrs. John P. O'Neill and J. C. W. Albert. The prisoner at first stated that he did not wish to have any defence at all, but subsequently withdrew his objections to having counsel. After conversation with the prisoner, Mr. O'Neill asked that the arraignment be postponed until himself and his colleague could be afforded time to examine the indictment. It is understood that the prisoner expresses a willingness to plead guilty to the first bill in the bill charging him with the murder of Cornelius Carry. The District Attorney proposes to try him for the murder of Mr. Deering. This will show the strength of the commonwealth's officer in the strength of his case, without availing himself of the pretended confession of the murderer.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill to reorganize and establish the army of the United States.

The amendment was rejected by a vote of 52 yeas to 78 nays.

Mr. Conklin moved an amendment by adding to the fifth section the following proviso: Provided, That all officers of the existing Veteran Reserve Corps, excepting those now actually detailed for duty in the Freedmen's Bureau, or otherwise actually employed, shall, on the passage of this act, be mustered out of service, and paid upon the same footing with other officers. The amendment was agreed to; yeas 52, nays 45.

The Sculling Match "No Go."

The latest advices from Jimmy Hamill are, that on his arrival in New York he called on Mr. Queen, the editor of the Clipper, and was surprised to find in his possession a letter from the editor of the Sportsman, objecting, on behalf of Kelly, to two of the conditions stipulated in Hamill's terms. The first condition objected to is, that Kelly should receive but two weeks notice of the place and date of the races; and the second, that in the event of rough weather the races should be postponed until a smooth course could be had. Kelly thinks he should have at least a month's notice of the time and place, and insists that the race shall be run on the day fixed upon, let the weather be fair or foul. The first point Hamill might yield willingly, but the second he cannot, as it would be impossible for him to row if the water should be rough, for the very good reason that his scull would be in great danger of swamping, and as he is unable to swim he would thereby endanger his life. It looks very like as if Kelly wants a chance to back out, or he would not at this late day urge such f

TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The recent assurances that the President of the Southern Confederacy is to be brought to trial for his manifold offences against the laws, and that the attorneys of the Government are diligently preparing to take up his case, are received by most loyal men with satisfaction. Not that a vindictive and blood-thirsty temper is indulged towards this great criminal. But there is a deep feeling that his conviction and punishment is due to the dignity of the republic which he outraged; to the manes of the patriotic dead who fell in the war that the Union might be preserved; to the sanctity of the laws he defied; and to the future peace and security of the people of this nation.

If any criminal is hereafter to be punished for any grade of offense, we do not see upon what grounds Mr. DAVIS should be allowed to escape. Under whatever true aspect his conduct may be viewed the guilt of ordinary felons sinks into insignificance in comparison with his. A vulgar murderer is sent to the gallows, because through lust, revenge or avarice he took the life of a human being. Mr. DAVIS is responsible for the slaughter of hundreds of thousands of men; multitudes of them under aggravating circumstances of barbarity scarcely paralleled in the darkest ages and among savages. What robberies; what arsons; what crimes of various sorts, are fairly chargeable to his account? Those multitudinous spectres of sorrows that still haunt the memory of the nation came forth at his bidding.

There are, however, two sorts of people, differing widely in their mental organizations and moods of feeling, who object to his arraignment, conviction and punishment.

The first of these classes include all those who, from whatever considerations, hold political offences to imply and entail no moral guilt. When put in plain English it may sound harsh, but there are a good many individuals who regard a lie told in furtherance of a political end, as really no lie at all. So, if politicians, to carry their points, heap swindles, arsons, robberies, ravishments, wounds and murders upon each other, an appalling pile, they are held, by an unaccountable confusion of ideas, to have done nothing of which any body has a right to complain or for which the administrators of the laws should call them in question. Nothing can be more fallacious than the idea which underlies this notion, which is that the rights of the whole may be invaded and demolished with perfect impunity and innocence, while it would be a shame and crime to take the rights of one person.

The other class comprise all those who carry compassion and forgiveness to the extreme of weakness. They have a theory that love and gentleness can be made to control the world, and much better than justice and equity have performed that job so far. This weakness is a charitable one; but it is none the less a weakness. Doubtless the gentler virtues have there places and functions in the world; but attempts hitherto to govern bad men and women by soft words exclusively have not been successful. However sensitive natures may revolt, there is need to do a good deal of rough work yet in the world.

THE JOHNSON AND JOHNSTON organs announced yesterday, that some individual hitherto unknown to fame, named ANDREW ROBINSON, had been appointed Postmaster in Allegheny. After diligent inquiry we learn that there is such a man; that he is, and has been a member of the democratic party; and that he owes the sudden notoriety he has acquired to his relationship to the SAWYER family. He is probably, also, one of the 3000 (so-called) "Republicans" who belong to the Allegheny County JOHNSON club, as, if there is any such club, none but democrats would be guilty of belonging to it.

It is observable that the Post joins as heartily in approving these appointments as the Commercial. It knows that there is no other refuge for the few Republicans who may be tempted by the greed of office to go over to JOHNSON but the Democratic party, and hence it exults as much over Gov. JOHNSTON'S appointment as it does over that of ROBINSON. In getting ROBINSON it gets half of the spoils, so far; and it allows itself to hope, if not to expect, that the ex-Governor will soon be as good a Democrat as ROBINSON.

In this common sympathy between the Post and the Commercial we have a new proof, if any be needed, to show that the national administration has Tylerized from ultra Republicanism to Copperheadism. The Post is consistent! It has adhered firmly to its Copperheadism from the beginning of the war until now. There has been no change in it; and when ANDREW JOHNSON plays into its hands and the Commercial is found side by side with it, the inevitable conclusion is that it is JOHNSON and the Commercial that have changed and not the Post.

THE President has nominated HENRY STRANSBERRY, of Ohio, Associate Judge of the United States Supreme Court, vice Judge CATRON, deceased. He is the reputed author of the Veto message on the Civil Rights Bill. For this compliance he gets a Judgeship, involving an opportunity of deciding on the validity of his own argument. This is the latest among many instances which induce us to believe, to the disgust of some of our contemporaries, that Judges are only human beings, and some of them poor specimens.

Mr. STANSBERRY is an eminent lawyer Originally a Whig, he fell off into the support of PIERCE and BUCHANAN. From the beginning of the rebellion he acted as a war democrat, and voted for LINCOLN and JOHNSON in 1864. A bill has passed the House and is before the Senate reorganizing the Supreme Court Districts so as to dispense with the vacant Judgeship. At all events, he will stand a poor chance of confirmation.

THE Richmond Examiner, in discussing the Civil Rights bill, asks the Southern people to "pray that the cholera may decide the question between our adversaries and ourselves." That is not an amiable form of piety; but as the times go, we must be thankful it is no worse.

THE Committee on Commerce recommend an appropriation of $36,961, to complete public works in the harbor at Erie.

MR. CLYMER ON RAILROADS.

A correspondent of the Commercial informed the public, yesterday morning, that Mr. HEISTER CLYMER, the Democratic candidate for Governor of this State, has written a letter in favor of a General Railroad Law, in answer to interrogatories propounded by citizens of Sharon, in Mercer county. We shall take it as a favor if the JOHNSON organ will publish Mr. CLYMER'S letter and with it a record of his votes in the Senate relative to railroads and other topics. Possibly the "Looker-on" at Harrisburg, (who don't seem to have done much else there this winter than look on, judging from his own account,) can post our contemporary.

Neither the efforts of armed disloyalists, nor of traitors to the republic in disguise can prevent the people from knowing and passing judgment on the nefarious record made by Mr. CLYMER, in the Senate, during the war. Against every measure calculated to uphold the hands of the national authorities, and of the defenders of the Union, he squarely voted. It is not surprising, therefore, that he and his friends, endeavor to seize on all manner of side issues to relieve him from the odium of his votes against the country. But, we take occasion, thus early in the canvass, to say that whatever dexterity Mr. CLYMER may have in evading direct issues, will not avail him. He deliberately incurred responsibilities, and will be held to a rigid accountability.

Mr. CLYMER has a record on war questions. He has none whatever on the question of a Free Railroad Law, which will show him to be in favor of such a measure. The utmost his record proves on that head is that he skulked. At the bidding of the Reading Railroad Company, in which he and his family friends are largely interested, he found it more convenient to dodge than to put his vote on the journal. When the bill to incorporate the Anthracite Railroad Company—to run substantially parallel to the Reading Railroad—had passed the House and reached the Senate, a few weeks ago, Mr. CLYMER opposed it, and succeeded in getting it put over to a future day. When the day came he was not there, because he had ascertained his presence and vote would not defeat it. If his vote would have killed the bill, it is fair to presume he would have been on hand and assisted in the slaughter. In dodging this division, he acted in conformity to his system. Hence he escaped every division almost involving railroad interests in Western Pennsylvania, during the whole winter.

We know comparatively little of this Anthracite Railroad Company. The Philadelphia newspapers say it is a genuine enterprise, and that capitalists are pledged to carry it through to completion. When Mr. CLYMER'S letter in favor of a Free Railroad Law is published, we shall call on him for an explicit answer to the question how he reconciles the doctrines therein set forth, with his views expressed in the Legislature before he found it convenient to resign. There was an occasion for him to show his zeal for the doctrine of allowing all persons to build railroads who wanted to invest their means in such improvements. He was found wanting. This deficiency is not compensated by liberality in voting for railroad charters in sections remote from the roads in which he is personally concerned.

Gen. GEARY'S letter is manly and straight-forward, in favor of a General Railroad Law. He has nothing to conceal. Neither the efforts of a "Looker-on at Harrisburg or of any one else, can blot out Mr. CLYMER'S record, or make it what it is not. His war record the "boys in blue" heard of in the army, as it was making, and will answer it in thunder tones before the ides of October.

GENERAL NEWS.

JEFF. DAVIS & CO.—The House Judiciary Committee on Saturday had Judge Advocate Holt before them, who testified at length upon the case of Jeff. Davis and C. C. Clay; their complicity with the assassination conspiracy, and that steps have been taken to bring them to justice. He also furnished the Committee with considerable documentary evidence, so important that they immediately placed an injunction of secrecy upon it, and to-night several members pronounce it sufficient to convict and hang both of them.

A FELLOW, named Frederick Nuee, dragged Mrs. Tucker from her horse, while riding along a public road, near Perryville, Me., some ten days ago, with the intention to violate her person. Failing in his purpose, he fled to the woods, but was afterwards arrested and lodged in jail, to await the action of the Grand Jury in his case. He is pretty sure of reaching the Penitentiary.

THE De Witt (Iowa) Observer says: "Jesse G. Royalty, who was taken to Fort Madison to serve three years for having three living wives, has been discovered to have two more at Springfield, Mo. This youthful Brigham Young has five wives—besides a black woman whom he engaged to marry while they were confined in jail at this place."

THE MYSTERIES OF CHICAGO.—As the winter's ice breaks up on the lake shore and in the river at Chicago, a great many dead bodies are fished out of the water by the citizens. Nobody knows anything about how they came there, and no impertinent questions are asked, according to the local journals.

AN old man in Johnson county, Ill., was missed by his neighbors, recently, and they inquired of his children where he was. The children, aged 13 and 15 respectively, confessed that they killed and secretly buried him, because he was old; sick and troublesome.

THE railroad bridge at Boonesboro, on the Iowa Division of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, is completed. Nine hundred laborers are now at work on the road west of that place, and the track will be ready for the iron about July 1st.

THE ICE BRIDGE AT NIAGARA FALLS.—The Niagara Falls Gazette of April 11, says: "The ice bridge at the ferry passed away yesterday afternoon. It formed on the morning of the 1st of January, and has remained since that time.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

THE merciless slaver of African hous. Mr. Gordon Cumming, has at length fallen a victim to a more terrible destroyer. He died at Iverness, Scotland, on the 24th of last month. He was born on the 15th of March, 1820, and was the second son of Sir William Gordon Cumming. He early showed a passion for hunting, and became an adept to deer stalking in the highlands of Badenoch. Afterwards he was in the British army for some years, and left it about the year 1845. Between October of that year, and March, 1849, he made several hunting forays into the interior of Africa, the marvellous accounts of which he published in his "Hunter's Life in South Africa." With his acknowledged skill as a hunter of lion was joined a less commendable passion for the indiscriminate slaughter of more harmless game, and an ability in telling large stories really remarkable. On his return to England he made considerable profit by the exhibition of the trophies of his hunting expeditions. Of late years he has confined his attention mainly to the game in the Scotch highlands.

We have already announced the death of Chief Justice Edward Bowen, of the Superior Court of Lower Canada, on the 10th inst., at the age of 55 years. He was a native of Ireland, emigrated to Canada at an early age, and through influential connections obtained, in 1808, the post of Attorney General. On the 3d of May, 1812, he was appointed a Judge of the King's Bench, and in 1849 he was promoted to the office of Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Lower Canada. For nearly forty years he did not absent himself from his duties, or even apply for the customary three months' leave of absence. He was in Parliament a number of times, and once Speaker of the Lower House. After the re-union of the Provinces, he withdrew altogether from political as well as Parliamentary life, and gave his undivided attention to the more exact duties of his judicial office. He was the father of the large family of sixteen children.

Gen. JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON, in a letter in which he consents to become a candidate for the position of President of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, says: "The position, to me, would be the most agreeable one I could think of. No position would suit me better than the Presidency of a respectable railroad Company, and I should prefer the Mobile and Ohio Railroad to any other. The majority of the troops commanded by me during the war were from the Gulf States; and my best and warmest friends reside there. I have a strong desire to pass my remaining days in the Gulf States in the midst of those who have shown themselves to be my best and most steadfast friends."

EDWIN FORREST has accepted a tempting offer to go to California, and sailed in the Costa Rica on Wednesday night last. The Philadelphia Press states that the terms offered by Mr. Maguire, who has engaged Mr. Forrest, were the most extraordinary ever made to any actor either in this country or in Europe, not only in a pecuniary point, but were such, that on arriving at California, Mr. Forrest was not bound to act, if he did not feel disposed to do so, while Mr. Maguire made it binding on his own part. Mme. Ponisi, Miss Lillie and M'Collough accompany the tragedian.

DR. GWYN, lately rebel and duke, is confined in Fort Jackson, New Orleans, and in front of his casement is stationed a negro sentinel with orders to prevent any attempt to escape. The other day a gust of wind carried out of the embrasure a sheet of paper on which the prisoner was writing, and without a moment of reflection he jumped out after it. The soldier outside leveled his musket and pulled the trigger, and only the failure of the cap saved the Doctor's life.

Ex-Gov. TOD, of Ohio, authorizes his friends to say that the use of his name as one of the Vice Presidents of the so-called "Johnson National Union Club," is without his authority or consent. Gov. Tod has no sympathy with any similar organization, and having been somewhat careful in the selection of his associates, does not at this late day propose to affiliate with the class of men composing the organization referred to.

OLD OIL WELLS.—We lately gave the result of Y. M. Thompson's management of the Oil Companies, in which we stated that if oil wells of the Thompson and Commercial had been demonstrated beyond a doubt that the majority of the abandoned wells in legitimate oil producing territory were abandoned for want of a proper knowledge of operating them, and not because it had ever been proven that oil ceased to exist in their locality. This theory is no longer a hypothesis, as all are willing to admit who have seen the operation of the principle as applied to the Woodford, the Phillips, and the Jaynes wells, on the Tarr farm. By a joint arrangement four wells of those companies are pump, at the same time, two of them yielding but little oil while the other two produce nearly one thousand barrels daily. When but two are pumping, no matter which of the two are selected, no oil to speak of is obtained. It will be seen then, that the wells must be relieved of a certain amount of water before the oil can be procured, and in this case the wells communicate with each other in such manner that the oil producing wells can be relieved of water by pumping those which yield but little water. If those of the number which yield but little water were plugged up or seed-bagged, in such manner as to prevent communication with other wells, to prevent the surface water of these wells from running into the other, as has been the plan generally adopted, the object would be entirely defeated, as it has been found impossible to make use of a pump of sufficient capacity at any one well to clear an oil producing well of water and at the same time procure the oil. Hence the principle of pumping a number of wells jointly and simultaneously is the only method yet discovered by which an old producing well can be resuscitated and brought back to its original yield.

The plan is now so well understood and appreciated that the proprietors of the Egbert Farm have resolved to adopt it, and have contracted for Liddell, Selden & Bliss' pumping rigs to do the work, as we were informed a few days ago by the Superintendent of the farm. This gentleman is so well satisfied with the principle that although he estimates the Egbert farm loss by fire at over $100,000, he concludes the improved mode of operating, which can now be easily introduced, will make the farm worth twice its former estimated value. Erie Dispatch.

A SOUTHERNER'S OPINION OF BEECHER.—A letter-writer from Alabania, in the New York Watchman (Southern) says he's a neighbor who has been on a visit recently to the great metropolis, and thinks well of Rev. H. W. Beecher. He says:

"I went half an hour before the time, and barely was in time for a seat. Beecher will do. Beecher has religion. The people sing like a genuine Methodist camp meeting. You feel when you come away, that, God helping, you will be a better man. Your heart is moved, and your eyes moistened. No nigger, no politics—real gospel, heart searching, practical religion. I went again, and is was the same thing. We discussed Beecher, and concluded he would do, and made up our minds to invite him down to the capital of Alabama to preach."

A LOVE AFFAIR.—The New Albany Ledger says that a man named Price was engaged to be married to an heiress named Love, not a hundred miles from that town. The preparations were all made, the bridal party assembled, and the divine ready to tie the knot, square and strong on the arrival of the groom. The gallant Price, however, hearing that his intended was not the heiress he supposed she was, upon consideration, changed his mind. He never appeared. The wretch! The spirit of the bride said come, and, as if fulfilling the Scriptures, though more likely filling full themselves, those assembled partook freely of the wedding luxuries without money and without price.

A LADY, modestly attired, was on her way to New York, on board one of the Hudson river night boats. She sat quietly reading in the ladies' cabin, when a flashily dressed dame, mistaking her for a servant, rather rudely accosted her with, "Do you know this cabin is for ladies?" "Certainly I do," was the answer, "and have been wondering for some time why you were here."

"JAKE, did you carry that umbrella home that I borrowed yesterday?" asked a father of his son. "No, father, you have often told me to lay up something for a rainy day; and as I thought it would rain soon, I laid up the umbrella."

A LADY visiting a girl's school, asked one of the children, "What are you making my little mistress, is it a chemise?" "No ma'm," replied the girl bashfully, "it's a he-mise."

"A PAIR of pretty eyes," said Coxcomb, "are the best mirrors to shave by." "Yes," replied old Hunx, the bachelor, "and I have known many a man shaved by them."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AYER'S PILLS—Are you Sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order with your system deranger and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors, purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed to health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and deranges its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangement of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heartburn, Rheumatism, Piles, Worms and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE.

For the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague and Bilious Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fever, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in Chills and Fever, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and the great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other mineral substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking Brothers of the army and the west, try it and you will confess its virtues.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., and sold by B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S SON & CO., and by all Druggists.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, April 18, 1866.

The Chicago Evening Journal, of Tuesday, contains the following paragraph relating to the sudden disappearance of a grain speculator of that city:

"The sudden disappearance of John T. Lester, of the firm of Denison & Lester' grain dealers and commission merchants, with all the available funds of the concern, was the chief topic of conversation on 'Change to-day The facts in regard to it are as follows: Messrs Denison & Lester have been speculating in grain, and have lost considerably within the past month. Yesterday the firm was "short" on wheat, which Mr. Denison bought in, and on going to draw checks for the difference in the afternoon, made the discovery that Lester had betrayed him by drawing out of the bank all the available funds of the firm, and leaving him incontinently in the lurch. Mr. Lester has had the reputation of being trickey, but other wise has always stood well in commercial circles, and his sudden departure was no greater a surprise to the members of the Board of Trade than to his partner. The liabilities of the firm are not large, and the funds with which Lester disappeared were more than sufficient to pay all. We are sorry that the course of Lester should operate unfavorably on his partner, Mr. Denison, who is an honorable high-minded gentleman, and who still retains the confidence and sympathy of all of the leading members of the Board of Trade.

"It is the intention of Mr. Denison to continue the business in his own name as heretofore, suspending of course, for a few days, until the present difficulty is settled."

—The following comparative statement shows the years, condition of the leading items of the Philadelphia Banks for the past and previous week:

	Last Week.	This week.
Capital	$14,642,150	$14,642,150
Loans	46,028,646	45,114,699	Dec. $913,947
Specie	946,282	949,016	Inc. 2,734
Legal-tenders	16,022,253	18,325,778	Inc. 1,701,525
Deposits	34,107,282	34,640,856	Inc. 1,533,574
Circulation	8,720,270	8,743,356	Inc. 23,126

The averages the past week, show a very general increase. The increase of deposits is $1,878,562; of legal-tenders, $1,701,526, the circulations, $23,126, and the specie, $2,734. The loans decreased $913,947. So large a decrease of loans, with so heavy an increase of deposits and legal-tenders, indicates inactivity in business and a large capacity for accommodations at bank.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of April 17, says:

The feared political disturbance between the German Powers, which at first hurried to this country, as is estimated, a million of our Five-Twenty bonds, with the effect of a decline of ¾ a per cent in their price, is fast dying out. Less importance is attached to the threatening attitude first assumed, and, it is now said that the mail by the Boston steamer brought a much smaller sum of United States Five Twenties of 1862 than had been sold in advance. At New York, on Saturday, on a knowledge of this fact, the price advanced to 104@104¾, and the bonds were borrowed for delivery on "short" contracts at a nominal rate of interest. Nearly all the other Government securities were strongly upward. Some sales of Seven Thirties were made as high as 101 per cent and interest. In our own market yesterday there was a still further advance in the Five Twenties selling freely, over the counters of the brokers, at 104¼@104¾. Compound interest notes also were in demand at decided advance. The banks are said to be active buyers, by way of adding to their legal-tender basis, and at the low rate that money rules on the street the operation can but prove an advantageous one for the banks. It not only adds to their interest-bearing assets, but puts them in an easy position in case that any exciting cause should provoke popular distrust.

—The New York Tribune, of April 17, says:

It is understood that the Treasury Department has a funding scheme under consideration, and will soon commence operations. It is to be hoped that the Secretary will not repeat the mistakes of his predecessor and break down by offering too low a rate of interest and too short bonds. Six per cent is not a high rate to pay, and the Secretary should not fail of funding his temporary loans, certificates of indebtedness, and compound notes, by receiving the option of paying off six per cent bonds after five, ten, or twenty years even. The Secretary will do his duty if he succeeds, during his term of office, in funding the debt into long six per cent, and retires enough debt to comply with the law, establishing a sinking fund reasonably.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 18, 1866.

There is still a fair degree of activity manifested in the produce markets, and Flour is still considerably excited and higher. In other articles, there is a fair business doing, mainly of a jobbing character, but prices, generally, have undergone no quotable change.

Oats steady with a good local demand; sale of 1 car No. 1 Chicago, to arrive, at 49; also, small sales from store at 53@55. Barley is scarce and in demand. Corn is selling at 70 to 75, from store, and in very light supply. Rye is quoted at 75@80.

POTATOES—The market is pretty well glutted, the arrivals having been large for some days past, and prices have declined considerably. Sale of 1 car, in bulk, at $1,12½; 2 do do at $1,15; also, regular sales from store at $1,30@1,25 per bush, and $3,00@3,50 per bbl.

FLOUR—The market continues firm and considerably excited, and prices have still further advanced. We now quote at $8@8,25 for Spring Wheat; $10@10¼ for half Spring and half Winter, and $11@11¼ for all Winter. Sale of 100 bbls, on track, half Spring and half Winter, at $10.

Telegraphed from Oil City to-day report Crude steady at $13 per bbl.

REFINED—There was more activity in bonded oil to-day than yesterday, without, however, any improvement in prices. RIVER, WEATHER, ETC.

The river rose a few inches again on Tuesday night, and yesterday and last evening the Allegheny pier marks indicated seven feet ten inches. Telegrams reported thirty-five inches, and falling slowly at Oil City. The weather yesterday was warm and cloudy, with premonitions of rain.

There has not been a single transient arrival since our last report. The Grey Eagle arrived and departed for Parkersburg, and the Bayard, from the same point, was due here last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. The Nors, from Cincinnati, ought to arrive here to-day; also, the Peerless and Urilda from Oil City.

The Importer left for St. Louis last evening, with a good trip, including a large number of passengers. She had all she could accommodate, state-rooms full to overflowing.

The Kate Robinson had not left for the Missouri River when we left the wharf, but it was thought she would get off during the evening —if not she will leave early this forenoon. The Kate, besides having a barge heavily loaded, had all the freight she could carry, and a large number of through passengers. Capt. Robinson is a very clever steamboatman, and we congratulate him on his "big trip."

Capt. Frak Maratta, a very popular and well-known steamboatmen, has taken command of the new Missouri River steamer, NILE, and he has persuaded Asa Shenard to take charge of the office. The Nile is filling up steadily, and will be ready to take her departure on Friday or Saturday.

The Messenger, it would seem, has withdrawn from the Cincinnati and Memphis trade, as she is now loading at the former city for Pittsburgh. The Wauanita, also, is loading at the same place for this port.

The staunch and reliable Glasgow, in command of that popular steamboatman, Captain Geo. W. Johnston, is filling up steadily for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will be ready to leave this evening. Passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Delaware, Capt. R. W. Harton, will be the first boat out for the Upper Mississippi, and as she will doubtless be crowded, passengers should call on board soon, and secure state-rooms.

Business continues rather dull at the wharf, and aside from experiencing considerable difficulty in picking up a cargo. The passenger trade, however, is very good, as there are large numbers of persons emigrating to the far west.

The St. Louis Dispatch, of Monday, says:

The Captain of the Nevada denies the report about the sinking of that boat upsetting a coal oil lamp while attempting to pour it on the fire. All we have to say is that we undertand it can be proved, if he desires it. An investigation in these matters might bring to light, however, some displeasant things. Why there is not this given to the public?

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, has the following items:

Capt. French passed through the city yesterday, en route from Louisville for Pittsburgh. Capt. J. M. Chambers is also in this city. He is on his way to Pittsburgh, after a long absence in Arkansas and Tennessee.

R. Rinkel & Co., dealers in fresh and salt meats, have dissolved co-partnership. The business will hereafter be conducted by Capt Andy Robinson, jr.
